Answers on the Resurrection Morning

Easter is a time to reflect the answers provided by God in ways beyond our understanding. Let us look into three questions that we come across in the gospels regarding the resurrection of Christ.

1. Who will remove the stone for us?

The women approached the tomb with a question: “Who will remove the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?” (Mark 16:3).

God’s answer was in supernatural ways. Mathew’s gospel tells us about the earthquake that happened on the first Easter morning. The angel of the Lord came down and rolled the stone away (Matthew 28:2). God acts in ways beyond our thinking and planning.

2. Why do you look for the living among the dead?

Our wrong understanding of God can take us to wrong places. The women came to the tomb side, thinking to see the body of Jesus and anoint the body with spices. To their surprise Jesus' body was not there. The angel asked them, "Why do you look for the living among the dead?" (Luke 24:5). Jesus very clearly spoke about his resurrection before his suffering and crucifixion. But no one believed it. Jesus was crucified on the cross, but just as he told, he rose again on the third day. Are we willing to believe what he has spoken to us or are we still guided by our own conclusions about God and His ways?

3. Woman, why are you weeping

Mary Magdalene was unwilling to leave the tomb side, while others left. She was found weeping outside the tomb. The angel asked her "Woman, why are you weeping?" She said to them, "They have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid him" (John 20:11 – 13). The risen Christ was standing near to her. Supposing him to be the gardener, she said to him, "Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have laid him, and I will take him away." Jesus said to her, "Mary!" She turned and said to him "Rabboni" (John 20:15,16). Mary was delighted to see Christ, the risen one. The risen Christ first appeared to Mary Magdalene. She was rewarded for her waiting and seeking. Christ gave her the responsibility to share the message of the resurrection to the world around (John 20:17). Mary Magdalene went and announced to the disciples, "I have seen the Lord". From then on, we see the story of the resurrection of Christ being unfolded rapidly. May our hearts be open to see and believe the risen Christ, so that we may receive answers to our life's existential questions. May the risen Lord go ahead of us and prepares a way for us, Amen!
